

Massage Therapy Supports Healing from Breast Cancer

What EVERY massage therapist NEEDS to know about
massage for clients living with breast cancer.

23 CE training hours NCBTMB approved

As a massage therapist you can make a difference in your client's journey back to health.

Learn about the disease, the traditional and alternative modes of treatment and how to support for your client through her treatment, honoring the physical, emotional and energetic body.

This workshop will cover:

- Facts about breast cancer; Risks, symptoms,
pathology and diagnosis
- Modes of conventional & alternative treatments
- Hands on techniques, emphasis on post surgery techniques, safety rules and contraindications
- Emotional aspects of dealing with breast cancer
- Guided visualizations and meditation
- Meet panel of Breast Cancer survivors; Open discussion and hands on clinic.

This workshop is open to graduates of an approved massage therapy school of 500 hours or more

Times and Dates:

Fri & Sat October 28-29, 2011: 9am-6pm

Sun, October 30th : 9am-5pm

Location:

Boulder, Colorado

Students say:

*"I have a much better understanding of what I should
and should not be doing with BC patients."*

"Eeris's teaching style is friendly, informative, nurturing and practical."

Tuition:

$400.00

Note: We will need Breast cancer survivors to work on. If you know any, please invite them to volunteer in our panel and hands on clinic on Sunday Oct.30
from 2-4:30pm.

Volunteers should be POST treatment.

For more information and registration go to:

www.bodyworkwisdom.com

(Click on trainings and workshops)

Or call 303-775-8005

About the instructor

Eeris Kallil CMT, is a massage educator, practitioner and a breast cancer survivor.
She has been offering quality trainings since 1999 including nine years at the Boulder College of Massage Therapy. She is the founder of this course and been teaching it since 2001. Eeris is a member of the Society for Oncology Massage and has been in private practice more than twenty years.

Massage Therapy Supports Healing from Breast Cancer

What EVERY massage therapist NEEDS to know about
massage for clients living with breast cancer.

23 CE training hours NCBTMB approved

As a massage therapist you can make a difference in your client's journey back to health. Learn about the disease, the traditional and alternative modes of treatment and how to support for your client through her treatment, honoring the physical, emotional and energetic body.

This workshop will cover:

- Facts about breast cancer; Risks, symptoms, pathology and diagnosis
- Modes of conventional & alternative treatments
- Hands on techniques, emphasis on post surgery techniques, safety rules and contraindications
- Emotional aspects of dealing with breast cancer
- Guided visualizations and meditation
- Meet panel of Breast Cancer survivors; Open discussion and hands on clinic.

Times and Dates:

Fri & Sat, Jan 20th and 21st, 2012: 9am-6pm

Sun, Jan 22nd, 2012: 9am-5pm

Location:

School of Holistic Massage and Reflexology

515 Ogden Ave. Suite 300

Downers Grove, IL 60515

(630) 968-7827

<http://www.sohmar.com/>

This workshop is open to graduates of an approved massage therapy school of 500 hours or more

Tuition:

$380.00 if registered before

Dec. 16th, 2011, $400.00 thereafter

For more information and registration go to:

www.bodyworkwisdom.com

Click on trainings and workshops

Or call 303-775-8005

Note: We will need post treatment breast cancer survivors to work on. If you know any, please invite them to volunteer in our panel and hands on clinic on Sunday Jan 22 from 2-4:30pm.

About the instructor

Eris Kallil CMT, is a massage educator, practitioner and a breast cancer survivor. She has been offering quality trainings since 1999 including nine years at the Boulder College of Massage Therapy. She is the founder of this course and been teaching it since 2001. Eris is a member of the Society for Oncology Massage and has been in private practice more than twenty years.

Students say:

"I have a much better understanding of what I should and should not be doing with BC patients."

"Eris's teaching style is friendly, informative, nurturing and practical."

"Such valuable information was presented here! The panel of survivors was amazing!"